

Summer school depends on survey

ALBANY — Responses from parents in a survey distributed this week will determine whether the Unified School District will proceed with an elementary summer school program, tentatively scheduled for June 25 to July 10 at Cornell School. Meanwhile, the district authorized a six-week summer session that will begin June 18 and operate on a self-supporting basis.

The proposed children's summer school program, cancelled last year after the passage of Prop. 13 and the subsequent decision by the state not to finance the session, would be operated jointly with the city and is expected to be similar to those provided by the district in previous years.

The city with planning assistance from the school district, will employ the staff and be responsible for administration of the program.

According to Superintendent of Schools Charles McCully, registration dates will be established toward the end of this month should the survey show strong interest in an elementary summer school session.

The proposed program would run 8:30 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday and would include instruction in basic skills as well as enrichment classes. The pre-kindergarten through third grade classes will be basically self-contained, while students in fourth through seventh grade may choose from three classes for the four-week period.

A registration fee of $65 per student has been established. The fee is based on a projected enrollment of 300 students. For information, parents should call Millie Regazzoni at 527-2033 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

As for the adult school session, traditionally offered classes have been scheduled in addition to state-required courses in basic adult education.

The basic fee is $10 for most classes. Registration will begin May 29 either by mail or in person at the day or evening adult school offices.

For information on the adult program, call 526-6811.

East Bay Ballet schedules Spring Concert performance

BERKELEY — Grace Doty's East Bay Ballet Theatre will present its Spring Concert at the Florence Schwimley Theater, Allston Way and Grove Street, Berkeley.

Performances will be given on Friday, March 23 at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 31 at 2:30 and 8 p.m., Sunday, April 1, at 2:30 p.m.

The concert features the ballet classes "Les Sylphides" with "Paquita," "Simple Symphony," and "pas de deux" from "Romeo and Juliet" and "Mayane" to complete the program.

The style and costumes for "Les sylphides" are to place this ballet in the romantic era of the 19th century, but choreographer Mikhail Fokine actually created a new genre here — the ballet of mood with no narrative structure. Fokine called it the personification of a poetic dream.

The music consists of seven of Frederic Chopin's piano works arranged for orchestra — a Nocturne, three Waltzes, two Mazurkas, and a Prelude.

Grace Doty learned the choreography for the pas de deux and ensembles in "Les sylphides" from her teacher, Alexandra Baldina, who danced the role in the first performance in 1908 at St. Petersburg.

Many of Fokine's ballets have since been recreated by other choreographers, but ballet companies have preserved the integrity of "Les sylphides" and still perform it very nearly as it was originally done.

In EBBT's production, Julie McClymonds of Berkeley will dance Pavlova's role with Grayson Gannon recreating the part of the romantic poet originally performed by Nijinsky.

Leslie Babcock of Berkeley will dance Baldina's Prelude, and Tassia Hooks and Julie Lemberger, both of Berkeley, will alternate in Karsavina's Waltz.

Karen Portner of Kensington and Lili Rejali of Richmond will appear in semi-solo in the Nocturne. The mood-setting corps of sylphs will include Heather Elrick, Paula Goodman, Tassia Hooks, Wendy Larick, Jessica Paul, Katie Robben, Lisa Banks, Andrea Gaudet, Lynn Orme, Lisa Piniella, Michelle Poe, and Tiffany Scolnick of Berkeley, Luana Nietzsche and Susan Forsstrom of El Cerrito, and Jennifer Griffith of Kensington.

Alexandra Danilova, who appeared in "The Turning Point," originally brought the ballet "Paquita" from Russia and choreographed it for the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo with Alan Howard as principal dancer.

Howard, in turn, recreated the ballet for Grace Doty as prima ballerina with his Pacific Ballet.

Only the diversifications of the third act are ever done today. These call for the virtuosity and grand manner characteristic of the classical Spanish style.

Julie McClymonds and Alex Stevens of Berkeley will dance the pas de deux, and Paula Goodman, Berkeley, will appear in a solo variation.

Karen Portner, Tassia Hooks, and Julie Lemberger of Berkeley, and Luana Nietzsche of El Cerrito will alternate in semi-solos. Sparkling, Spanish-style ensembles open and close the ballet.

For Benjamin Britten's "Simple Symphony," Jack Johannes has created an abstract ballet especially suited for the young dancer. "Simple Symphony" explores the joy of movement to the engaging rhythms in the Boisterous Bourree, the Playful Pizzicato, the Sentimental Sarabande, and the

A probe of local post office

ROBERT KROLL
BERKELEY — U.S. inspectors have begun an investigation of violations that may cost the local post office more than $33,000 in fines.

The investigation was begun this week after inspectors received an anonymous letter, said to be from postal employees, accusing fraud on the part of the local postmaster.

The post office also is the Albany area.

A letter listed nearly 100 Albany businesses that said they received the office's will-call service at no charge. The service is supposed to cost $120 a year to patrons, and the letter charges that the payments are due for the past three years.

Regional postal information officer Jerry Reynolds said the postal service would not comment on the investigation until it is completed. He did confirm the existence of the letter, and said the inspectors "are looking into the charges."

Postmaster Harry McGannon, when informed of the allegation, said, "During my tenure here at the Berkeley Post Office, whenever a caller service was initiated, they were charged for it. Beyond that, I cannot comment." McGannon has been with the Berkeley office since January, 1977.

The will-call service, also known as "caller service," enables businesses to pick up their mail at the post office in the morning instead of waiting until it is delivered later in the day. It is a convenience to the patrons equivalent to having a post office box.

Caller service customers are issued "phantom" post office boxes, actually box numbers which they use when they pick up their mail.

The businesses which are not paying for the service are located in the West Berkeley industrial area, west of San Pablo Avenue, and they pick up their mail at the Parcel Post Station, 740 Hearst Ave. Other Berkeley businesses do pay for the service.

A supervisor at the parcel post station, who asked not to be identified, said it was true that about 90 to 95 patrons were issued phantom boxes several years ago, when the station did not have any post office boxes.

ALBANY — The City of Albany will be looking for 11 unemployed Albany residents for CETA jobs.

The Albany City Council voted without dissent Monday night to accept about $92,000 in federal CETA funds to start five new programs and to continue the senior citizens transportation project and two other federally-funded, city-run programs.

The new programs are:

- The library training project. This project will employ two people for 32 hours a week to assist the Albany Library in providing services to elderly and low and moderate income families.

- The parks and community beautification project. This project will employ six people to beautify Solano Avenue and the BART right-of-way area.

- The legal services project. This project will employ one person to provide paralegal service to senior citizens and to assist the city attorney in basic research.

- The city clerk clerical project. This project will employ one person to work 32 hours per week in the city clerk's office and in the finance department to assist in maintaining city files and other work.

- The housing rehabilitation project. This project will provide one person to work in the public works department to give staff assistance to the housing and rehabilitation programs and to assist the retirement Jobs Inc. in providing services to low and moderate income families.

All the programs will end at the end of this year. The pay ranges from $3.50 to $4.25 an hour.

The neighborhood assistance and record maintenance programs both have received funding until the end of July, but will probably be discontinued after that date, according to City Administrator William Haden.

The senior citizens transportation program, which provides van service to places such as the doctor's office and grocery store for elderly people, will probably receive a grant when its funds run out allowing it to continue, Haden said.

In other action, the council:

- Voted unanimously to approve liquor licenses for off-sale beer and wine at The Store, 555 Pierce St., and an on-sale license for the Albany Viking, 600 San Pablo Ave.

- Unanimously approved the expenditure of $2,838 to purchase new lights for the outside of city hall. The action will save the city approximately $1,600 a year in energy costs, according to city officials.

- Referred a request for

ALBANY'S REPRESENTATIVES IN MARCH OF DIMES SUPERWALK APRIL 1
H. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Dempster, J. Bucholz, M. Koepke, H. Zapata

Albany residents gear for Dimes' Superwalk

ALBANY — Albany is to be well represented in the March of Dimes Superwalk slated for Sunday, April 1.

At the March of Dimes kickoff luncheon, the Albany group agreed to enter the competition for the V.I.P. Mile from Laney College to Lake Merritt Hotel. Those who have signed up for the Walk, at this time, include Hal Denham, manager of the Albany Chamber of Commerce; Patt and Jack Dempster, she former Albany City Clerk and he-incoming president of the Albany Lions Club; City Clerk Jacqueline Bucholz, Fire Chief Mike Koepke, Ellen Zapata, City Treasurer for Albany and Peggy Thomsen and Ruth Ganong, school board. Other civic leaders have indicated they will participate in the walk.

In addition to the group of city leaders from Albany, other cities will send their representatives, including the mayor of Oakland, Berkeley and other towns of the area. Many clubs and organizations have indicated interest and will enter teams to make the Walk.

Walkers may obtain sponsorship in many ways. They may sponsor themselves, ask their employers to sponsor them or have a fraternal organization do the honors. The goal of each walker is to bring in sponsorship of $100 or more.

With Mrs. Thomsen chairman for the Albany area for the March of Dimes, anyone interested in further information may call her at 527-2449, or the March of Dimes office, 836-2267.

Entertainment has been arranged for the walkers with the Lake Merritt hotel to donate a champagne brunch for all walkers. In addition, the Oakland Woman's Rowing Club will support the drive by rowing a mile on the lake. Tom McLaren's Banjo B and also is slated to appear and entertain the V.I.P.'s during the brunch.

Last year, the Albany group raised over $1,000 in the Walk and has issued a challenge to Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda civic leaders betting they can raise more money than the other cities. The goal for the East Bay is $6,000 this year, it was said.

Albany schools still hoping for funding

ALBANY — At the regular meeting of the Albany Board of Education last Tuesday evening, the issue of money again was discussed.

Superintendent of Schools Charles E. McCully of the Albany Unified School District, said progress of SB 119, the bill giving schools funds for non-immigrant children attending Albany schools, had been stymied in committee when the vote came up tied at five all.

McCully said a frantic search to get the other two votes needed to put the bill out of committee was fruitless and it will again be presented to the California State Finance Committee on Monday. He said he, with Board members Peggy Thomsen, Ruth Ganong and Jean Trentet, will go to Sacramento to assure the necessary votes to get the bill on the floor. Passage of SB 119 will give the District an immediate $176,000 and, it is hoped, an ultimate $352,000 in extra funds.

McCully announced several Japanese educators are to visit Albany and will be conducted on a tour of the District and shown the courtesy of the schools.

The educators particularly are interested in adult and continuing education.

In other business, the Board granted the requests of Bonnie Crawford-Rose, a teacher at Albany Middle School, and Annalou Levinson, library aide at Albany Middle School, unpaid leaves of absence for the 1979-80 school year. The Board also agreed to the recommendation of McCully for the employment of Ms. Maria Adams as a Special Education Instruction Aide at Marin School and of Ms. Caroline Dunham as Special Education Aide at Albany High School. Mrs. Carolyn Valterza was hired to replace Evelyn Hiker who resigned recently as cook-manager at Marin School.

Pat Moore was granted permission to take a minimum of ten students and a maximum of 15 students on a trip over the Easter holidays in 1980 to Guadalupe Island in the Bermuda Triangle. The students are to live with families of natives of the Island in an ongoing experiment in international living. The cost, per student, Ms. Moore stated, will be between $500 and $600.

She also asked for more foreign language studies and asked the Board to make more languages mandatory. She stated English is taught in Russia as a mandatory subject, but Russian is not taught in many schools in this country. Student representative Steve Heathcock, rebutted Moore's statement with the fact English is now the international language and is understood in all diplomatic circles as well as the native tongue of the foreign country.

Approval was given the Class of 1980 to stage their Junior-Senior Prom at Merritt College May 18.

McCully gave a report on the progress of the joint District-City plans for summer school (please see story on this item in this issue).

The Board also was given the tentative contract proposals for 1979-80 by Local 390, United Public Employees, outlined in another story in this issue.

HOMETOWN NEWS

Three weeks in Florida did a world of good for Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Young of Albany.

The couple visited two old Albany residents while in the "Sunshine State." June Kragh and Maxine Mallion at Vero Beach, Dogtown of the South. The Youngs said the stadium where the Dodgers hold spring practice seats 6,000 people and is sold out every day of the season.

While in Florida, the Youngs visited Miami, Key West, went to Cape Canaveral and were at Edison's summer home at Ft. Myers. The pair also were at Sarasota and saw the Ringling Brothers museum. Being true tourists, they took in Tampa, St. Petersburg, Cypress Gardens and the Bok Singing Tower, one of the tallest points in Florida at 322 feet. Taller, even, than any of the hills in the state. They also visited the Everglades in their three week vacation.

Dr. Michael Sonleitner, optometrist, 1156 Solano Ave., recently completed a 55-hour course in instruction in general and ocular pharmacology. The course, approved by the California State Board of Optometry, meets the educational requirements to take the state board examination to use diagnostic pharmacology agents.

Dr. Sonleitner, who is engaged in a private practice, passed the examination successfully in July of last year.

He said it was true they have never been charged for the service, but added that most of them are long-term customers who began receiving service before the charge was instituted.

The I-G contacted several of the businesses listed in the letter, and they admitted not having paid for the service, but expressed surprise that it was even an issue.

"Why should we have to pay for a service we perform ourselves?" said the bookkeeper at Converters Ink Co. who refused to give her name after speaking at length about the expensive mail service and "what greedy SOB's they are to charge us" for the caller service.

The letter to postal inspectors, dated March 13, charges that Postmaster Harry McGannon has "willfully disregarded" the postal service regulation by not charging customers at the parcel post station for caller service, while customers receiving caller service at the Main Berkeley Post Office are paying full price.

"We are requesting an immediate investigation of this matter and collection of all fees past and present due the U.S. Postal Service."

"We will be waiting and watching to see when you take this action, for we are not only postal employees, also taxpayers who are tired of Koreagate and other coverups of higher-ranking federal officials," said the letter.

The writers said they were remaining anonymous because they feared reprisals from McGannon.

CETA slates Albany visit

ALBANY — CETA-on-Wheels will appear at Albany Middle School, 1000 Jackson St., Tuesday, March 27, from 1:15 to 4:30 p.m. to recruit persons interested in job training for accountant clerk, bank teller, data entry operator, culinary arts work and home repair skills.

The CETA program is aimed at minorities, people more than 45 years old, and low-income residents between the ages of 18 and 21 who are interested in attaining a General Equivalency Diploma (GED). Information is available at 451-8000.

SOAR to save old motor oil

ALBANY — More than 2,400 gas stations, stores and recycling centers have joined forces with the State to end California's greatest oil spill — the illegal dumping of used motor oil.

Called SOAR — an acronym for Save Oil America, Recycle — the project is under the direction of the State Solid Waste Management Board. According to Jerry Prod, chairman of the board, the project will help "do-it-yourselfers" — motorists who change their oil at home, to find a place to dispose of their used oil.

"Rather than pouring it in a clean field or down the sewer or leaving it in a park," Prod says, "we want them to take it to the collection points we have established throughout the state. There it can be saved and re-used as a valuable energy resource."

Oil that is recycled is either re-refined as lubricating oil, used as a fuel or road oil, or turned into asphalt.

SOAR was first initiated a year ago by the California State Automobile Association. In addition to prohibiting the disposal of used oil in water and sewage systems, landfills, or by incineration, the senate bill encourages state and local government to use re-refined oil in cars and trucks.

Persons can learn the location of drop-off points near their homes by calling the State board's toll-free number, 1-800-952-5545.

Course on wills scheduled

ALBANY — A class entitled "Wills — Estate Planning — Death Taxes" will be conducted in the Albany Adult Evening School located at 603 Key Route Blvd. by Berkeley attorney Stanley R. Kendall.

The class will meet six Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m., commencing on March 29, 1979.

The class is designed to inform the public as to the different types of wills, provisions that should be considered in preparing wills, the importance and necessity of wills, what happens to a person's estate when they die without a will, probate procedures and costs of probate, the advantages of estate planning and methods of developing a well-balanced estate, discussion of various types of taxes involved with death and estate planning, and the advantages and disadvantages of holding title to property in joint tenancy.

Adult school convenes first time Monday

ALBANY — The ten-week spring quarter of Albany Adult School starts Monday.

Over one-hundred fifty courses will be offered leading to such goals as job improvement, a high school diploma and self-enrichment.

A wide assortment of day and evening classes has been scheduled including business, homemaking, physical conditioning, parent education, nine foreign languages, fine arts and crafts. Adults with specialized interests might prefer enrolling in such courses as guitar, landroving, wills and estate planning, rapid reading, French cooking, aviation, self defense, boating and seamanship, woodcarving, weight reduction and sign language.

Day classes meet throughout Albany and most evening courses will convene at Albany High, 603 Key Route Boulevard. Enrollment remains open in many courses but early registration is advised. Some classes are tuition free, others are $5 or higher.

Those wishing further information may call 526-6811. Spring quarter class schedules and course summaries are available upon request.

EAST BAY BALLET

Frolisome Finale.

The Albany Community Orchestra, conducted by Ernest Douglas, will provide live music for the dancers. Douglas, a long-time East Bay Music educator and conductor, founded the Albany Community Orchestra in 1975.

In the pas de deux from Gayane, Luana Nietzsche of El Cerrito and Deborah Kaufman of San Francisco will dance alternate performances with Curt Chamberlain of Berkeley.

During the years when Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev were dancing together, the "Gayane" pas de deux was a popular item in their repertory.

The choreographer, Sonia Arova, a dancer of international repute, was instrumental in bringing Nureyev to the United States and danced with him in the Chicago Ballet. Since the music for the pas de deux has never been recorded, the professional pianists Patricia and Donald King-Smith of Cal State Hayward have recreated Aram Khachaturian's colorful music on tape as arranged for piano duo.

To complete the program, Wendy Larick and Grayson James of Berkeley will dance an excerpt from the balcony scene pas de deux of "Romeo and Juliet" with music by Sergei Prokofiev and choreography by Alan Howard.

Tickets — $4 for adults and $2 for seniors and children under 18 — can be purchased at Hink's of Berkeley and at Fidelity Savings and Loan Offices in North Berkeley, 1861 Solano Ave., Berkeley at 2323 Shattuck Ave., and El Cerrito at 10612 San Pablo.

To order by mail, send a check with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to EBBT, 540 Grizzly Peak Blvd., Berkeley, 94708. P.A.S. vouchers will be accepted and group rates are available by calling 841-6500 Ext. 481.

Band Boosters dinner

ALBANY — Tickets are now on sale for the Albany Band Boosters' "Spaghetti Symphony" fund-raising dinner, to be given Friday, March 30, from 5 to 8 p.m. in Cornell School cafeteria. The tickets, at $2 each, are being sold by instrumental music students and their families from Albany High School and Albany Middle School. Each ticket admits one adult or two children under twelve.

According to Band Boosters presidents George and Maureen Grandy, the dinner will consist of spaghetti with meat sauce (Jennie Niemala's special recipe), French bread and butter, tossed green salad, olives, coffee, tea or milk and dessert. At only $2, the dinner is a real bargain in eating out, according to the Grandys. Take-out dinners are also available at no extra cost.

All proceeds will go toward replacing worn-out musical instruments in the schools and providing instruments for children in Albany who cannot afford their own.

Ernest Douglas, music supervisor for the Albany schools, says "This wonderful dinner has been an annual event in our town for the past twenty years."

Students seek jobs for tour

Nine high school students from Berkeley, Albany, Oakland and Lafayette are looking for part time work to pay part of the cost of a five week tour of Europe and the Soviet Union during the 1980 Summer Olympics.

The trip is sponsored by the International Programming Department of the Berkeley-Albany YMCA.

The students range in age from 14 to 18 and have various skills and experience. Prospective employers may call 848-6800, extension 40, or leave a message with extension 11.

The students meet once a month this year and once a week next year to learn of the culture, customs and language of the countries they'll be visiting. Cities to be seen include London, Amsterdam, Paris, Geneva, Rome, Munich, Venice and Vienna. While in Russia they will also travel to Leningrad and Kiev.

Each student will be expected to make a report of the tour when it is completed to his or her community, church or school.

Like a good neighbor, State Farm is there.

Bible study meets tonight at 7:30, according to Mrs. R.O. Willmouth.

ST. ALBAN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Holy Communion will be at 7 and 11:30 this morning, conducted by the Rev. Warren Debenham, rector. St. Anne's Guild will meet immediately after the latter service. At 6:30 a potluck supper will begin, followed at 7:30 by the third of the Lenten study series. Father Debenham will lead the continuing discussion of "letters to Malcolm," by C.S. Lewis.

Tomorrow, St. Alban's will host the Deanery of Alameda when about 100 clerical and lay delegates from all over the country meet at 7:45 p.m.

The Rev. Jose Luis Lana will preach on Sunday. He will be the celebrant of Holy Communion, and will be assisted by the Rev. David Scott. Father Lana will tell of his ministry with the Iglesia del Buen Samaritan, the Spanish Congregation of Good Samaritan Church in San Francisco. The work being carried out there is part of the Episcopal outreach to the hungry.

R.L. Spurrier will be the lector, reading from the Second Book of Chronicles. The acolytes are Leonard Johnson at 8 o'clock, and Andy Lamp and Shawn Black at 10 o'clock. The Senior Choir will present the offertory anthem "Jesus Did He Walk This Lonely Valley." R.L. Spurrier and Jack Storrs will usher, and Joyce Martin will greet. The coffee hour after the 10 o'clock service will be "Birthday Sunday," honoring those who were born this month. The adult discussion group will meet at 9 o'clock in the parish library with Father Debenham.

St. Alban's is at 1501 Washington Avenue in Albany.

CONGREGATION BETH EL

Outcasts? Has the working class Jew come to feel himself an outcast in a culture presently dominated by the educated, the professionals and the entrepreneurs of today's Jewry? Do Jews honor the pioneer builders of Israel, yet ignore the contributions of their own laborers at home?

These questions will be raised at Temple Beth El Arch and Vine, Berkeley, Sunday at 11 a.m.

Discussions will be Paul Shinnoff, Labor reporter for the San Francisco Examiner, member of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners; Michael Schneider, member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, deputy director of California Division of Industrial Safety; and John Krasnick, organizer, Longshoreman's and Warehouseman's Union. Refreshments will be served at 10:30.

All are welcome for a provocative morning!

THOUSAND OAKS BAPTIST

The Lenten Bible Study Series will resume this evening under the leadership of Dr. John E. Skoglund. The Scripture passage will be John 11:20-50. Proceed-

Rev. Jessup quits post

ALBANY — Reverend Craig Jessup resigned March 18 after a 12-year ministry at Northbrae Community Church, 941 The Alameda, Berkeley. He cited health reasons for leaving, and planned to move to Lindsay, California, where he grew up and where his family has citrus property.

This is the 65th anniversary of the church which serves North Berkeley. Rev. Jessup was the third minister. The first, Dr. Frank Brush, served from 1914 to 1923. Rev. Laurence L. Cross was called in 1924 and served until his death in 1966 — 42 years. During this time he was Mayor of Berkeley for two terms.

Rev. Jessup was called in May, 1967. His ministry in Berkeley spanned the turbulent years faced by the city and university. In 1971, Rev. David Sugarbaker was called to assist Rev. Jessup, and in 1973 was designated co-minister and plans to continue.

Rev. Jessup is a native of Lindsay in the San Joaquin Valley. At the age of 17 he volunteered for the U.S. Marine Corps and served 33 months during W.W.II in the South Pacific, and, as he says, "worked up through the ranks to Private First Class."

He graduated from Oregon State in 1949. In July of the same year, he married Marjorie Guerber, and they moved to Vale, Oregon, where Rev. Jessup high school for five years. The Jessups moved to Berkeley in 1954, in a house on Northbrae. After graduation from Berkeley Divinity School, Rev. Jessup served in the church in Fowler, Northbrae.

The Jessup family have grown up in the area. Craig Jr., a graduate of Oregon State, is an actor/singer with Hastings and Co. Francisco, California. Strough, a graduate of Davis, lives in California with his wife and son. Harley, a graduate of Oregon State, is a master's student at Stanford for Kory Studios Valley. Nathan is at Chico State. Graham, the youngest graduate from High in June.

Grow a salad this summer

Bonanza, Pay Dirt, Tomato & Vegetable Food.

Here's a way to beat rising food prices and have a great time doing it—grow your own salad.

Start by mixing 49er Pay Dirt with your soil. It is a unique mulch and soil conditioner which contains vital nutrients and trace elements to provide a balanced growing environment.

After planting, feed with 49er Tomato/Vegetable Food.

It's especially formulated to help vegetables grow crisp, healthy and delicious.

And to keep vegetables free of insects and fungus growth, use Bonanza, the broad-spectrum, year-round spray which can be used until one day before harvest.

There's a 49er product for every garden need.

Man and religion
Most religions have firm assumptions about the nature of God, but are weak on the nature of man; and what is needed, as Martin Buber so clearly saw, is more study in "philosophical anthropology" providing a theory of man that will stand up to our theological projections.

RSVP to sponsor whistles

ALBANY - The Retired Seniors Volunteer Program of Berkeley-Albany (RSVP), is now sponsoring the Whistlestop Program in Northern California, according to Coordinator Mrs. Miriam Hawthorne.

RSVP is a community program sponsored by Vista College in Berkeley, wherein seniors are urged to use their talents and skills in volunteer work at community agencies. They work as teacher's aides, office workers, bookkeepers, and friendly visitors and listeners for convalescing or bedridden people.

Whistlestop is a safety program designed to fight crime and improve police-community relations as well as foster community spirit. People in the program wear the whistles around their necks or on key rings for protection.

Whistles are available in Albany at the Albany Chamber of Commerce, Chelemados, 1251 Solano, and at UC Village, 1108 8th Street. The RSVP Office at 2020 Milvia in Berkeley, also has whistles.

Information about the Whistlestop Program in Northern California will be aired March 14 on Hugh Downs' Over Easy show, Channel 9 at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Isabelle Betten, publicity chairman of the Berkeley-Albany RSVP, is Coordinator for the Whistlestop Program.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Council of the City of Albany will hold a public hearing on Monday, March 26, 1979, at 8:00 P.M., or as soon thereafter as possible, in the Council Chambers of City Hall, 1000 San Pablo Avenue, Albany.

To discuss the feasibility of considering a potential Redevelopment Boundary Area to develop Albany's waterfront and Albany Hill Overlook. Below is a description of the property involved.

Beginning at the Northwestern most corner of the City limits of the City of Albany, lying in San Francisco Bay; proceeding easterly along the County line City limits and along Creek to the northwest corner of the Blind Orientation Center; thence southerly to the end of Madison Street and westerly to the end of Jackson Street; thence southerly to the end of Tait Street; thence southerly along the back property line of those lands lying on the easterly side of Pierce Street to Buchanan Street; thence westerly along Buchanan Street to the Railroad overpass; thence southerly to the City limits with Berkeley at Copdornes Creek; thence westerly to the south west boundary of the City; thence northerly to the point of beginning.

The aforementioned description includes the following areas: Albany Landfill and future Waterfront Park

Liz Drennan, Albany's answer to Darrell Evans

Athlete of the week

ALBANY — Liz Drennan, who is described by one coach as an "aggressive, hardworking and competitive sophomore," is the current Athlete of the Week.

Liz, whose parents are Tom and Betty Drennan, plays varsity basketball and softball and plans to compete in volleyball next year. Her penchant for athletics is reflected in her hobbies as well as her plans for the future.

In addition to her athletic extra-curricular activities, Liz is an avid bike rider. She hopes to go on to college, preferably in Santa Barbara, to earn a teaching degree and later land a coaching job.

Liz has been on the varsity squad two years and "is an aggressive, hardworking and competitive sophomore," said coach John Senuta. She plays third base, is batting at a .529 clip, has scored 11 runs and driven in eight, and has also notched a grand slammer.

Her base running also sports a perfect six for six in steals. She has shown tremendous improvement in both hitting and fielding, according to her coach.

Liz has also broadened her horizons with visits to Hawaii, Europe and Ireland.

The Albany Park & Recreation Department Whirllette Baton Corps now has openings for tiny tots — 3 to 5 years of age — new beginners and intermediate, age 6 through teens. Learn to twirl — march and basic dance steps. Classes will be held at Marin School Multi-Purpose Room, 1001 Santa Fe Avenue, Albany.

Classes will be held on Thursday afternoons, starting March 22, 1979 through May 10, 1979. New beginner class time: 3:15 p.m.-4:00 p.m., intermediate class time: 4:00 p.m.-4:45 p.m.

Fee: $14.00 for the eight week session. Sandy Rios, the instructor has sponsored a boy grand national champion and a strutting California champion.

Children joining the marching unit corps will participate in various parades throughout the year. Classes will be subject to signups at the Albany Park & Recreation Department.

The department announced two new yoga classes to be offered starting Friday through April 27, 1979, the six week session to be held at the Albany Community Center, 1123 8th Street.

The classes will introduce timeless techniques designed to stop aging and preserve youthfulness in the body, control weight, improve muscle tone, calm jangled nerves, increase flexibility and circulation, improve stamina and vitality which can improve your memory and concentration.

Yoga builds an inner strength that can help one cope with stress and strain and promote proper breathing for health and beauty.

Classes will be held on Fridays, 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and a Friday night class, 7:00 p.m.-8:30 p.m. Instructor is Olita Berger, who has had extensive training in yoga, nutrition and psychotherapy.

Class fee: $16.50 for the six week session, one and a half hour classes.

All classes will be subject to pre-registration at the Albany Park & Recreation Department.

New leader at Albany Bowl

By PHIL ALSTON

ALBANY — For the third time in as many weeks a new leader surfaced in the 870 Commercial League at Albany Bowl when D & M Body Shop, which dominated the circuit a year ago, hammered out a 21 to 4 win over Team Five behind Mark Valente's 605 series.

In reaching the top spot the Body Shoppers needed a helping hand from Kalalekawila, who crunched Blair Excavators 18½ to 6½ with Rich Law shooting 577 and Frank Spicer 566.

Gibbs Bookkeeping Services, who set the Commercial's pace earlier, didn't do much better than the Ex-cavators, bowing to Mary & Joe's 15-10 and remained in third place.

In the 910 Majors the race got a bit tighter when league leading Merry Jax received for their second loss in a row while second place Jack's Auto Body Shop was clipping Desperation 15-10.

Rod's Coffee Shop used a 639 series by Roque Layson and Mario Salcedo's 618 to score an 18-7 decision over Merry Jax, who got a best of 638 from Randy Felix but little else.

In other Major League matches Ron Selak's 635 cluster paced O & R Vending 17-8 over Associated Coin Amusements, and Diable Bowling Supply defeated Franklin Electronics 17-14 to 7-14.

Richmond Brass had its lead in the Tri City Men's League shaved to one-half game after a 2-1 loss to the Unknowns and a 2-1 win by challenger, bowing to Mary & Joe's 15-10 and remained in third place.

Plug casting from shore after dark is producing good catches of large stripers in the 18- to 28-pound range. Where they are during the day is a mystery as daytime fishermen are only getting a few small ones.

Even the trollers are slow and spotty. Hot spot is foot of Ashby Avenue Frontage Road.

Perch fishing has come into its own this past week with good strings coming from Keller's Beach, Point Isabelle, Albany Dump and the racetrack pier.

Flounders are going wild off Pittsburg and down through Suisun Bay. They're good-eating and a nice fill-in on a slow sturgeon trip.

Ocean salmon is slow to fair depending on your luck. When we speak of 1 fish per rod, that usually means one guy gets three and two others get skunked. But that's fishermen's luck. At least you had a good chance and can go home and mull over what you could have done different.

Don't blame yourself. I blame the eclipse of the sun. When the moon was covering it up, the little people on the dark side polished the sun so it shines brighter. Notice it? Then the fish see better. Turn your back on 'em and they will sneak up on you. A watched pot never boils.

Good luck and keep smiling. They'll bite.

Tax credit from state for solars

ALBANY — The State of California is offering incentives for the use of solar energy in the form of a tax credit to homeowners and businesses who install such systems.

A credit of up to $3,000 is allowed by the state for residential solar hot water heating, space conditioning and swimming pool applications installed after April 19, 1977 through Dec. 31, 1980. For instance, on a solar pool heating system which costs $2,200, the maximum state credit allowed is $1,210, bringing the net cost to the homeowner to $990.

Both passive and active solar systems are eligible for the state credit. Unused portions of the credit may be carried over to future years.

According to the Solar Division of the Electric & Gas Industries Association, the solar systems must meet certain quality requirements to qualify for the tax credit. Systems must have a "useful life" of at least three years, under state Energy Commission regulations.

Certain components of the systems must also carry three-year warranties.

Conservation measures installed in conjunction with a solar system also qualify for the state tax credit if they improve the performance of the solar system or reduce the amount of conventional back up energy required for it.

Pool covers with three-year warranties, hot water heating and pipe insulation, water flow restrictors and other such devices qualify for the credit when installed as part of the solar system.

Cancer talk workshop in The Forum

SAN FRANCISCO — "Communicating with the Cancer Patient," a free public lecture, will be held Tuesday night from 8 to 10 at "The Forum," Fireman's Fund Building, 3333 California Street.

The talks will stress the importance for the cancer patient to realize with her/his family and friends that the person with cancer has a mind and a body that are powerful weapons against this disease.

Neil Fiore, Ph.D., will be of his experience as a patient. Barbara Blumberg, Turner, of the National Cancer Institute, will speak on her project "Coping with Cancer," and Ernest Rosenbaum, M.D., will talk on the new techniques of communicating with cancer patients.

The workshop is open to everyone, and is sponsored by the San Francisco Regional Cancer Foundation.
